

Contents

3 EDITORIAL

Paul Messenger discusses how the new magazine is evolving

4 BLUE LASER BLUES

With short-wavelength 'blue lasers' about to increase the data capacity of the 12cm optical disc dramatically, Barry Fox reveals how the industry is making sure that everyone stays totally confused

7 CABLE CONTROVERSIES (Part 2)

Martin Colloms continues his magnum opus on hi-fi cables, examining directionality, bi-wiring, and reviewing 16 different speaker cables

15 CREEK OBH-22 ROUND ROBIN

Is Creek's little 'passive pre-amp' hi-fi's biggest bargain? Four reviewers supply alternative opinions and perspectives

18 AUDIO RESEARCH REFERENCE 3

Martin Colloms scrutinises ARC's remarkable new triode line pre-amplifier

22 CONRAD-JOHNSON CT5

Martin Colloms evaluates a very elegant and persuasive triode line pre-amplifier

25 A TALE OF TWO PRE-AMPS

Comparing and contrasting the ARC and c-j triode pre-amps

26 AMPLIFIER GROUP TEST

Three very different amplifiers undergo trial, audition and full measurement critical assessments, by Paul Messenger with Martin Colloms and Chris Bryant

37 ALVIN'S YEAR

Alvin Gold picks out the highlights (and some of the low-lights) from twelve months of full time reviewing

40 CDPS REVISITED

A second look at CD players we reviewed in the last issue, plus the graphs we didn't have room to print

42 THE BEST OF CLASSICAL

Christopher Breunig picks some of the most interesting recent classical releases, comparing them to alternative versions in the catalogue

46 ROCK, POP AND OTHER NICE MUSIC

Music and hi-fi enthusiast Nigel Finn finds more good music from around the globe down at his local record shop

50 EVOLUTION: METALLICA

Metallica is much the most interesting heavy metal band around. Channa Vithana traces the 20 year evolution of the band and its music

52 SUBJECTIVE SOUNDS

As pigs fly over the Thames barrier, Paul Messenger starts plugging fancy speaker cables into Naim amps